About Our Presenters

Roy Nichols is a retired attorney who spends his retirement time volunteering for many and various causes. Because of his love of history he gives historical presentations throughout the area using power point slides, plus he is an established author. He is a Professional Storyteller, who is currently Vice President of Storytellers of Central Ohio. He performs in Vaudvillities shows and other productions. During the holiday season he plays Santa Nick around the clock throughout Central Ohio. Between his wonderful storytelling and talented entertaining ability, he is a true delight! We will be in for a real treat listening to this talented man. We will get our “Nichols worth!”

The afternoon presentation will be designs by Sylvia Meiring of Toledo. Her show titled “Up-Purposed Holidays” will honor GCO President Marlene Hatton’s theme of “Time for A Cool Change,” which encourages us to avoid plastics, and to reuse and recycle whenever possible. Every design will have something recycled, or something “you couldn’t bear to throw away” from holidays past, Sylvia says. Most will have holiday lights. She is an Accredited NGC Flower Show Judge, and has been the Flower Show Chairman at the Toledo Botanical Gardens for the last three shows. She’s also a master gardener. She joined the River Road garden club around 2009. Sylvia’s love of flowers was encouraged by her mother who painted blooms on her bedroom walls, and by her grandfather who let her play — and then work — in his greenhouse. She’s passing on that love to her grandchildren and to those of others through her work with Toledo’s junior garden club. At age 5, her grandson Ozzie entered his first design show.
